VENUE

Why spoil a good recipe? We will again enjoy the hospitality of Pearl Seaways, sailing from Copenhagen on Tuesday the 28th, arriving in Oslo in the morning of the 29th and then leaving for Copenhagen in the evening the same day.

The ship will be back in Copenhagen in the morning on the 30th of January. The main part of the conference takes place while the ship is in harbor, in Copenhagen and in Oslo.

REGISTRATION / PRICE

Register online at the conference web site:

www.e-navigation.net

Early registration is available from August 1 until November 15 2013. Late registration will be available until Thursday January 23 2014.

There are different prices depending on time of registration and choice of accommodation. All prices include conference fee, accommodation and all meals. Modest supplementary fees are applicable in case of accompanying spouses.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Papers must be sent to the organizing committee electronically no later than 1 November 2013. Papers concerning all aspects of e-Navigation are welcome, but a special emphasis will be given to topics relating to the topics listed in the introduction of this flyer.

Papers will be used to select speakers and will not be published, but all presentations will be made available on memory sticks to conference participants and on the conference web site.

Abstract should be sent to: abstract@e-navigation.net

EXHIBITION

It will be possible to have exhibitions at the conference. Industry, projects and others are welcome with e-Navigation relevant material. Having an exhibition is free (apart from presenters registration fee), but is subject to limited space.

If interested, contact the organizers: underway@e-navigation.net

DEADLINES

Paper submission: 1 November 2013
Early registration: 15 November 2013
Exhibition booking: 15 November 2013
Late registration: 23 January 2014

We aim to have a draft technical program including all speakers ready for distribution by mid-December.

INTRODUCTION
As the first part of the e-Navigation journey is coming to an end with the expected materialization of the e-Navigation strategy implementation plan (SIP) in 2014, we should begin to discern what lies beyond. Thus the conference will focus both on the present stage where the SIP is being finalized and on the implementation ahead.

Some of the key subjects for discussion at the conference will include:

- How will the e-Navigation process run in the implementation phase (post SIP)?
- What role will IMO, IALA, IHO, IEC, ITU and others have during the implementation phase?
- The e-Navigation process and the GMDSS modernization process; are they sufficiently coordinated?
- What new test bed results do we have; in particular in the area of the prioritized IMO solutions?
- Are we really getting the benefit from test beds that we should? e-Navigation and current legislation – are we ready to change anything?
- What will the impact of the IMO restructuring on the e-Navigation process be?
- Have the benefits of e-Navigation become any clearer?

We are confident that we will again gather the e-Navigation community of the world to facilitate fruitful discussions in a marine environment.
