

Guidelines on the IMO STCW Convention including the 2010 'Manila Amendments'

With guidance on compliance with the new requirements concerning seafarers' minimum rest hours

In June 2010, IMO adopted substantial amendments to the STCW Convention governing seafarers' training. This new third edition of the popular ISF Guidelines for shipping companies has been fully revised and updated to take account of these changes - the so called 'Manila Amendments'.

As well as taking account of technical developments, these changes to STCW include new training requirements for leadership and teamwork, enhanced refresher training for qualified seafarers, new competence standards for tanker personnel and for the new grade of Able Seafarer (Deck and Engine), and new requirements for maintaining records of ratings' training.

The ISF Guidelines should be read by anyone connected with the employment and training of merchant seafarers.

The 2010 amendments also introduce major changes to IMO regulations concerning seafarers' minimum rest hours which will apply from 2012.

The revised ISF Guidelines include:

- Detailed advice on company obligations and compliance;
- Information about the changes to STCW and when they come into effect.

The Guide is priced at £60.00 (including worldwide airmail postage and packing). To order, please complete the form overleaf and return to Marisec Publications.
