Introduction

1. ICS strongly believes that safety should remain the highest priority in the shipping industry and that the outcomes of accident investigations should be carefully considered to ensure the continual improvement of safety.

Outcome of MSC 90

2. In response to MSC.1/Circ.1446, Recommended Interim Measures for Passenger Ship Companies to Enhance the Safety of Passenger Ships, ICS encouraged its passenger ship member companies to undertake a review of operational safety measures.

3. It is anticipated that enhancements identified by ICS members will be submitted to a future session of the Committee for consideration in the ongoing discussions on 'Passenger Ship Safety'.

Consideration of Costa Concordia investigation outcomes and immediate actions

4. ICS reiterates that only after the publication and detailed analysis of the investigation reports into the Costa Concordia accident, should consideration of evidence based proposed actions, regulatory changes or review be undertaken. It is important that great care is taken not to make premature changes to regulations that might not, after analysis of the investigation findings, have been a factor in the accident, or contribute to improved safety.

Action requested of the Committee

5. The Committee is requested to note the information and take action as appropriate.
